When we honor God and place Him at the center of our lives, every day is a cause for celebration. God fills each day to the brim of possibilities, and challenges us to use our lives for His purposes. Every morning at dawn, the sun breaks over the Atlantic Ocean on a land of freedom and opportunity. The new day is presented to us free of charge, but we must be aware: Today is a non-renewable resource ---once it’s gone it’s gone forever. Our responsibility---both as Americans and believers---- is to use this day in the service of God’s will and in service of His people.
